Goodbye After 10 Years
By Brian Sisler

Ms. Voreis is leaving the position of faculty advisor for the Le-Win junior high school newspaper.

Brian: How long have you been the faculty advisor for the junior high newspaper?

Ms. Voreis: This is my tenth year.

Brian: How has the newspaper changed over the years?

Ms. Voreis: The number of pages in an issue increased from two pages to six or eight pages, depending on the issue. The number of issues increased from four issues a year to nine issues a year. In the past, the Paw Print was only black and white copies, handed out to the students. The paper is now in color and we post the Paw Print on the school’s website and email the issues to students and their parents. The photos and images in the paper went from manual cut and paste, to digital.

Brian: This is your last issue of the newspaper. What will you miss?

Ms. Voreis: I will miss working with the students.

May Jokes by Austin Markee

Student: Would you punish me for something I didn’t do?
Teacher: Of course not.
Student: Good, because I didn’t do my homework.
Teacher: Name two pronouns.
Student: Who?, Me?

Student: I like doing nothing better.

Teacher: How do you like doing your homework?

FATHER: How are your grades, son?
SON: Under water, Dad.
FATHER: Under water? What do you mean?
SON: They're below C level.

Why was the math book unhappy? It had too many problems.

What kind of tree does a math teacher climb? Geometry.
